It happens that Mr. Hunter is somewhat deaf, and the huzzas for Daniel that rent the air as he made his bow seemed all right to him. He began by saying, "After this flattering call to St. Louis in the caucus of delegates from I cannot fail to respond-". At that point somehow it became apparent to him that he was taken for another man, and he retired gracefully, as much pleased evidently with the joke as any of those who laughed at him. In truth he is a little like Major Daniel, and that he should have been gobbled up for the latter is not very surprising. Shortly after this incident Major Daniel ored. appeared and addressed the serenaders, and with much satisfaction to them. Judge Cecil, of Tazewell (more familiarly known as "Cousin William"), also made some few pertinent and patriotic remarks. CAUCUSING.5 From the Second district the full complement of delegates have not yet arrived, but those who are already here held an informal caucus last night, at which our reporter learned that V. D. Groner, Esq., of Nor-folk, and Hon. John Bogart or Dr. Prince, of Southampton, were spoken of for delegates to the St. Louis Convention. The contest for elector lies between Judge Lacy, of New Kent, and Colonel Tabb, of Elizabeth City county. T. G. Godwin, Commonwealth's attorney of Portsmouth, will get the full vote of the Second District delegation for elector at large. It is stated Hon. John Goode will not be a candidate for any position within the gift of the Convention. The caucus determined to recommend the following members of committees: On Permanent Organization, Mr. Hill, of Portsmouth, and Arthur Segar, of Elizabeth was taken. At a caucus of the delegates from the Second district General Bagwell was present. He is reported to have said that he had no bjection to the change of the rule in this espect if the Convention so willed it. It is therefore understood that a resolution will be offered in the Convention providing that the several delegations recommend the committeemen. -This rule prevails in national conventions PERSONAL.

Richmond National Cemetery. With that view the action of the delega-

Yesterday was Federal Decoration-day and the graves of over 300,000 Union soldiers, in 175 national cemeteries, were adorned with floral tributes. There are seventeen of these cemeteries in Virginia: Arlington, Alexandria, Ball's Bluff, Cold Harbor, City Point, Culpeper, Danville, Fredericksburg, Fort Harrison (eight miles south of Richmond), Glendale (near Malvern Hill), Hampton, Poplar Grove (five miles southeast of Petersburg), Richmond, Seven Pines, Staunton, Winchester, and Yorktown. In these are interred the remains of 68,843 Federal soldiers: 28,644 white known, 36,783 white unknown; 2,244 colored known, and 1,152 colored unknown. In addition these cemeteries contain the remains of 4,295 citizens and of 596 Confederate prisoners of war. Richmond National Cemetery contains the remains of 6,541 Union soldiers-841 known, and 5,700 unknown. The few colored dead interred in this cemetery are among the unknown. DESCRIPTIVE SKETCH.

Richmond National Cemetery lies three miles east of the city of Richmond, on the southside of the Williamsburg turnpike. It is nearly a perfect rectangle of about eight acres, which originally cost $2,400. It is surrounded by a good wall of cemented granite rubble six feet high, coped with flat slabs of dark stone. There is a drive all around the cemetery on the interior of this thetic, and no matter what he sings he is wall, and there are two avenues, each twenty feet wide, intersecting each other in the an old resident of our city, was readily recentre of the cemetery, dividing it into four equal parts. THE CARNIVAL OF SEASONS-A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.—The very agreeable entertainment at the Virginia Opera-House on Monday night was not concluded until nearly 12 o'clock, but it was an entire success, and was heartily enjoyed by all who were present. The programme consisted of two parts-spring and summer embrawas perhaps the most successful that has been given in Richmond since the war. We eing the first, and autumn and winter the second. During the interval between the need not speak of the cause, for that is sufficient in itself to excite interest in the parts the audience was agreeably entertainhearts of all true Virginians; but as to the ed by some pretty baliads and excellent performance, it may be added that it was dancing, in which a number of bright and well in keeping with all that the peo- happy little folks took part, as follows: Reiter Galop, Miss W. and scholar; Old Man's Head is Bald (song), Master Myers; ple wished and all that the people felt.
